show horse.”

Whizota is by Topsail Whiz out of Bees Honey Jac by Hollywood Jac 86. He is a full brother to Whizard Jac, the 1996 NRHA Futurity Open Champion, ridden by Mike Florida and owned by Bill and Dawn Pohl, and the earner of $175,293, according to Equi-Stat records.

McCutcheon and Whizota marked a 215.5 in the preliminary round to earn $556, and a 215 in the finals for the Reserve Championship and $3,301.

She will take both horses to the NRHA Futurity, along with Chexable, the horse she rode to fifth place in the Non-Pro.

Intermediate Non-Pro Futurity

Victoria Lambert has ridden a few futurity horses before, but considered the SWRHA Futurity a breakthrough. Riding Guaranteed By Amos, she scored a 214.5 to win the Championship and $1,670.

Guaranteed By Amos is a mare by A Famous Amos out of Okies Paulette by Okie Paul Quixote. Lambert, Hempstead, Texas, purchased her during the Tulsa Reining Classic this year through Michigan trainer Pat Rogers. The mare is now in training with Jared Leclair, Pilot Point, Texas.

“She’s wonderful,” Lambert said of Guaranteed By Amos. “I tried her in September, and Jared took her home with him and has done a fabulous job with her.”

She and the mare won the Non-Pro

Dr. Jim Morgan and Von Won It marked a 210.5 to win the Prime Time Non-Pro Futurity.

and Intermediate Non-Pro at the 4R Performance Futurity in Katy, Texas, in October. In Ardmore, they marked a 209.5 in the first go. Lambert said this was the first futurity in which she improved her score from the first go-round to the finals.

“I was not very organized in the first go,” she said. “Jared worked with me and really helped me get a plan in my mind. He got the horse prepared and it worked really well. I felt like I rode smoother in the finals.”

Lambert and her husband, Carl, own a number of mares, including Memorable Affair, the earner of $93,840, according to Equi-Stat records, and several show horses. She said her husband and her mother, Nancy Lengyel, are “extremely supportive.”

“My mom and husband love the horses, and they are the reason I have horses,” she said.

Lambert owns Caballo Rojo Publishing, which publishes the Brahman Journal and does Web site design and video presentations for the cattle and horse industries.

The Intermediate Non-Pro Reserve Championship was won by Flis Sassella riding Twilight Rooster, a gelding by Roosters Wrangler out of Not Too Shiny by Shining Spark. They earned $1,648 for their score of 214.

Limited Non-Pro Futurity

Jackie Redish rode her first futurity horse, I Love A Surprise, to the Limited Non-Pro win in Ardmore. Their score of 207.5 earned $1,475.

Redish and the gelding, by ARC Sparkle Surprise out of Little Peppys Vet by Peppy San Badger, marked a 211.5 to win the preliminary round in the Limited Non-Pro for $1,106 and place fifth in the Intermediate division.

“My husband actually bought this horse to rope on,” she said. “We wanted to wait until he got a little older, so I decided to show in him the futurities and as a 4-year-old.”

In both the first go and finals, Redish said she didn’t ask for a lot from her horse, but “he was just right there for me and did everything really pretty.”

The Whitesboro, Texas, resident works with trainer Josh Visser, and said their game plan was to get through both rounds smoothly.

“We decided since this was my first futurity, we were going to try to make it a pleasurable experience and not do anything too crazy,” she said with a smile. “It worked out.”

Redish and the gelding are going to compete at the NRHA Futurity and the NRBC, and a few derbies next year.

The Limited Non-Pro Reserve Champion was Ruggiero Musacci riding Lil Miss Roan Peppy, a mare by Lil Ruf Peppy out of Miss Roan O Wood by Doctor Wood. They marked a 203 to earn $870. ■
